Attention Mr. Robert Gibbs- PERSONAL
White House

Dear Mr. Gibbs,

You may find useful reading the enclosed suggestions about setting a Presidential- led Voluntary Fund for Unemployment Reduction, prepared jointly with Prof. Philip Brenner. We believe such idea, if further developed, could be both effective as well as meaningful from an electoral perspective.

Let me add that our previous attempts to get just an acknowledgment of any staff member channeled both through the White House website (the comments' column ticking the request for an answer) and in a letter mailed from the the W. Wilson International Center for Scholars remained unanswered. If this is the feedback to two university professors and supporters of President Obama get, it seems that the gap between solicitation and attention to new ideas is a serious problem that should be taken care of.

Sincerely yours,

Prof. Edward Edy Kaufman
